Good Relationship Hunter Sales

HOW THE CANDIDATE ANSWERED THE SALES CLOSING QUESTIONS:

When the prospect 'wants to think about it', s/he persists with intelligent questions.

(If the prospect says, 'I want to think about it.' good salespeople will persist with intelligent questions.)

S/he wants to ask more questions even though the prospect wants to close the deal.

(Good salespeople know that more talking after the person wants to buy can undo a sale.)

When a prospect says, 'Your services are too expensive.' s/he asks why they say that.

(Asking why they say it is expensive gives the prospect a chance to reinforce the objection.)

HOW THE CANDIDATE ANSWERED THE SALES MARKETING QUESTIONS:

S/he believes in the value of asking good questions and actively listening during the selling process.

(Top salespeople believe it is more powerful to ask good questions than to talk and explain.)

S/he thinks the best approach to sales is being brave enough to try new approaches.

(Good salespeople think the best approach to sales is being brave enough to try new approaches.)

Believes asking for the business regardless of rejection.

(Asking those to do business regardless of rejection will improve the marketing effort.)

S/he believes the prospect's emotional wants are the most important.

(The prospect's personal and emotional wants are the biggest driver behind almost any sale.)

S/he believes the best approach to get started will fit his/her personality.

(Most good salespeople will say to this last question, "S/he believes to get started you should try several approaches even if a little unprepared".)

S/he believes the focus should be more on the quality of calls than volume of calls.

(Those good at cold calling believe it is a numbers game and a quality game.)

S/he will only approach people senior in rank if it won't be an interruption.

(Good salespeople are brave and will approach people even if a little unacceptable.)
